

Offer

If you're still debating whether you want to go to university or what to study, this program offers you the chance to test whether STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) is the right fit for you as well as learn what else TU Berlin has to offer.

Our two-semester MINT<sup>grün</sup> pre-study orientation provides:

- Lectures to find about TU Berlin's areas of research
- An orientation module to help you choose a degree program
- Practical experience in MINT<sup>grün</sup> project laboratories
- An opportunity to earn credit points in regular courses/modules
